

Science Buskers Festival 2020

The pandemic did not dampen the spirits of our girls and they continued to take part in the online Science Buskers Festival this year. They attended a conference-cum-training session online and put in a lot of effort to rehearse and record their presentations before submitting their video online. Congratulations to The Water Wizards who clinched the prize for the first runner-up with their innovative water filter!

The Harry Potter Wizards are preparing to inflate a balloon through a chemical reaction.

The Crazy Scientific Trio try their hand at making a 3D hologram and reversible tattoos.

Well done in winning the first runner-up, Water Wizards!
